

AI & UK Property

The Daily Briefing — a listening app for the daily podcast

A free app for following Dezrez's daily podcast on how AI is changing UK estate agency and conveyancing. Each episode is a short two-host discussion drawn from that day's industry news. The app puts the whole series in one place — searchable, sortable, and ready to pick up wherever you left off.

What it does

- The whole archive, always current
Opens on every episode published to date, newest first, refreshed each time you open it.
- Order it your way
Sort by episode or by date, oldest or newest first, whichever suits how you catch up.
- Listen at your own pace
Adjust playback speed, skip back and forward, or download an episode to keep.
- Search as you type
Filter the back catalogue instantly by title, description or date, with matches highlighted.
- Picks up where you stopped
Remembers your position in every episode and marks off the ones you have finished.
- Fits around a working day
Keeps working without a connection, installs to the desktop, and answers the usual media keys.

Who it is for. Estate agents, conveyancers and the teams around them — anyone working in UK residential property who wants to keep up with how AI is changing their work, in the gaps of a busy day. There is nothing to sign up for and nothing to pay.
